ROCKY MOUNTAIN COLLEGE OF ART + DESIGN

RMCAD is an innovative, rigorous, and community-oriented global learning environment that inspires passion for critical thinking and prepares learners to be forces of change in the creative industries, our communities, and the world.

In 1963, Philip J. Steele founded Rocky Mountain School of Art as a private institution in the foothills of Colorado. His mission was to make RMCAD a 'community of creatives' that would instill in all students a passion for creativity, innovation, and a desire for lifelong learning—both in the fine arts and applied arts. He sought to nurture the individual talents of each student, to integrate critical thinking and analysis into their skills, and to contribute in socially responsible ways to the local, global, and professional communities.

Today, we celebrate the graduates who continue this tradition.
